PUBLICATIONS

Authored books—refereed

Rivera, Omar. Cosmological Aesthetics in Andean Philosophy: Racial Embodiment and Decolonial Resistance (London: Bloomsbury Press, forthcoming, 2021)

This book is the culmination of intensive research in Cusco, Peru. It offers a phenomenological account of indigenous resistance based on Andean cosmologies and aesthetics. It offers studies of Inka architecture, Andean colonial painting and 20th Century Photography, and contemporary Peruvian Art. This project was supported by the ACLS.

Rivera, Omar. Delimitations of Latin American Philosophy: Beyond Redemption (Indiana: Indiana University Press, 2019)

This book brings together my early work on Latin American philosophy, and includes close readings of influential Latin American political philosophers. It attempts to delineate epistemological, intercultural and aesthetic delimitations of this philosophical tradition. It is intended for both beginners and scholars in the field.

Journal Articles Under Review (abstract accepted)—refereed

Rivera, Omar and Hajovsky, Patrick. “Visual Epistemologies of Resistance: Imaging Saints and Virgins in Contemporary Cusco”

This essay showcases the impact of my work on Andean art history. It is a collaboration with an art historian, and it is an attempt to think through the art style of the “Cuzco School” on the basis of Andean indigenous cosmologies and epistemologies.

Rivera, Omar. “Visual and Cosmological Epistemologies from the Andes”

Journal Articles—refereed

Rivera, Omar. “Resistance as Alterity in Borderlands Aesthetics” Interamerican Journal of Philosophy. Accepted with revisions (expected publication, Summer 2020)

Rivera, Omar. “Resistant Epistemologies from the Andes (A Contribution to Latin American Philosophy)” Journal of World Philosophies (forthcoming 2020).

This is the consolidation of my work on Latin American epistemologies that includes Andean indigenous cosmologies. It is also a reflection on different forms of resistance based on Andean social and cultural forms. It is a prelude to a dialogue with epistemologies of resistance as developed in Latinx philosophy (the work of José Medina and Linda Martín Alcoff in particular)

Rivera, Omar. “Stillness, Aesthesis, Resistance.” Critical Philosophy of Race, Volume 8, 1-2 (2020)

This essay is in a special issue on the work of María Lugones that gathers scholars engaging her work from various perspectives. It also includes a text by Lugones.

Rivera, Omar. “Approaching Racial Embodiment, Aesthetics and Liberation in José Carlos Mariátegui’s Seven Essays” APA Newsletter for Hispanics in Philosophy, Volume 19 (2019)

Rivera, Omar. “Epistemological and Aesthetic Dimensions of Transmodernism: Linda Martín Alcoff’s and Alejandro Vallega’s Readings of Enrique Dussel.” Inter-American Journal of Philosophy 8/2 (2017)

Rivera, Omar. “Reading Alejandro Vallega Toward a Decolonial Aesthetics.” Comparative and Continental Philosophy 9/2 (2017)

Rivera, Omar. “Mariátegui’s Avant-Garde and Surrealism as Discipline.” Symposium 18/1 (2014): 102–124

This essay is included in a special issue focused on philosophical approaches to Latin American aesthetics. It is a unique compilation that has set the stage for important developments in the field, including the turn toward an “aesthetics of liberation.”

Rivera, Omar and Hajovsky, Patrick. “Sincretismo y Desencuentros en el Cusco.” Contrastes 3/3 (2013): 8-14.

This is a short essay published in a regional journal in Cusco based in the Universidad Nacional Diego Quispe Tito del Cusco. Even though it does not circulate in the U.S., this journal has a strong impact on Andean experts on aesthetics and on regional artists. This essay is also part of my larger project of curating contemporary Andean art in the United States.

Rivera, Omar. “Political Ontology and Representative Politics (Agamben, Dussel, Marcos...)” Epoche (2011): 125-138.

Rivera, Omar. “Toward a Future Andean Technology (From a Tentative Phenomenology of Inka Stonework).” APA Newsletter on Hispanic/Latino Issues in Philosophy 11/1(2011): 8-14

Rivera, Omar. “From Revolving Time to the Time of Revolution: Mariátegui’s Encounter with Nietzsche.” APA News Letter on Hispanic/Latinos in Philosophy 8/9 (2008): 22-26.

Rivera, Omar. “The ‘Image of the Indio’ in a Non-Representative Economy.” The New Centennial Review 7/3 (2007): 131-148.

This essay (based on a lecture) is part of a special edition on “Latin American Singularities” that brings together influential scholars working on Latin American philosophy and Literature.

Rivera, Omar. “The Comedy of Patricide (Or: a Passing sense of Manliness). Socrates’ Overcoming of Andreia.” Epoche 11/2 (2007): 353-369

Book Chapters—Invited and Refereed

Rivera, Omar. “Inversiones Estéticas y Visualidades Andinas.” In “Para una estética de la Liberación Decolonial.” Enrique Tellez, Ed. (Mexico: Poliedro) forthcoming 2020

This is a compilation of essays gathering mostly philosophers working in Latin America intended to provide a foundation to understand the role of aesthetics in the philosophy of liberation. It was compiled under the advisement of Enrique Dussel, who intends to use it for his upcoming course in aesthetics in Fall 2020. It is an important venue to introduce my work to Mexican philosophical circles.

Rivera, Omar. “Hermenéutica, representatividad y espacio en filosofías de liberación social (una perspectiva Latinoamericana).” In Sujeto, Descolonización y Transmodernidad: Debates Filosóficos Latinoamericanos. Mabel Moraña, ed. Frankfurt/Madrid: Iberoamericana/Vervuert (2018).

This essay appears in a volume gathering influential philosophers from Latin America and the United States working on Latin American philosophy. It reaches both Spain and Latin America, and is intended as an introduction to the current state of the field. A special section was devoted to it at the Latin American Studies Association (the main conference on Latin American Studies) in 2018.

PRESENTATIONS

2020. "The Agony of the Image." Blanton Museum of Art, February 2020.

This talk was sponsored by the Blanton Museum of Art, the main museum in Austin and internationally renowned for its collection of Latin American art. I was invited by the director of the museum and the main curators with expertise in Latin American and Latinx aesthetics. My audience included art historians and scholars in Latin American studies.

2019. “Resistance as Alterity in Borderlands Aesthetics.” At the “Difference and Alterity: Critical Models in Modern Thought” Conference, University of Toronto.

2019. “Corporeal and Cosmological Imagination in Border Arte.” NASPH, University of Oregon.

2019. “Cataclysms: Elemental Exposures of a Cosmic Past” at the Collegium Phaenomenologicum on “Critical Phenomenology” in Citta Di Castello, Italy.

This is one of three invited lectures I have given at the Collegium Phaenomenologicum, one of the most important international gatherings of philosophers in the phenomenological and hermeneutic traditions. This exposure has allowed my work to have an impact in forging a bridge between phenomenology, Latin American philosophy and Amerindian cosmologies.

2019. “Art and Resistance” at the “Philosophies of Liberation Encuentro,” Loyola Marymount University.

2019. “Pachakuti and Elemental Architecture” at the American Philosophical Association Pacific Meeting.

2019. “Elemental Rhythms of Andean Built Environments” at the conference “Hermeneutics, the Humanities and the Future of Interpretation,” Texas A&M University.

This invited lecture provided me to develop the hermeneutical dimension of my work through an analysis of Inka architecture, expanding the field of comparative philosophy towards the indigenous Americas.

2018. “Exilic Nostalgia: Aesthetics of Liberation and Decolonial Imagination” At the APA Central Division, Chicago, IL.

2018. “Stillness, Aesthesis, Resistance,” at the “Toward a Decolonial Feminism” conference, Penn State.

This was a Keynote lecture that showcased my work to experts in Latinx feminism, the work of María Lugones in particular.

2017. “Displacing Architecture: Gadamer’s Aesthetics and Inka Stonework.” At the NASPH conference, Baltimore, MD.

This invited lecture allowed me to show the ways my work engages Hans Georg Gadamer’s aesthetics, and situate it within debates in hermeneutics.

2017. “Fixed Bodies and Irrecoverable Spaces (Decolonizing Space).” At the Decolonizing Philosophy: Latinx and Latin American Perspectives Conference, St. Mary’s University. San Antonio, Texas.

2017. “The Rhythms of Stone, Water and Light in Inka Stonework” at the Collegium Phaenomenologicum, Citta di Castello, Italy.

2017. “Corporalidades en Traslado y la Imagenación Decolonial” at the LASA meeting in Lima, Peru.

2016. “Shamanic Bodies: Alcott, Anzaldúa, Kusch, and Andean Corporealities” at the Gloria Anzaldúa Lecture Series, UTRGV. Brownsville, Texas.
2016. “Andean After-Bodies and Martín Chambi’s Aesthetics of Passing-in-Stillness” at the Collegium Phaenomenologicum, Citta di Castello, Italy
2015. “The Coloniality of Time and Andean Embodied Temporalities” at the Transamerican Experience Conference at the University of Oregon. Eugene, Oregon
 This invited lecture allowed me to present my first attempts to write on Andean cosmologies and aesthetics alongside well-known scholars in the field.
2015. “A Response to Alejandro Vallega’s Latin American Philosophy from Identity to Radical Exteriority” at SPEP. New Orleans, Louisiana.
2014. “An Introduction to Inka Stonework” at the NASPH meeting at SPEP. Atlanta, Georgia.
