

Work Experience & Academic Credit

What is a study abroad internship?

- Live and work in another country for a business, non-government organization, non-profit, or government entity.
- Potentially bring back A&M credit as part of the experience.
- Gain global perspectives on different problems or projects
- Enhance language skills and cross-cultural competencies.
- Providers usually help students with planning all logistics, transportation, and housing in your program’s country.
- Most programs are 4 weeks to 12 weeks long.

Programs Available

Name	Locations	Type of Work
Global Experiences	England, Germany, Spain, Italy, Ireland, France, Australia	Psychology, Non-Profit Management, Government, Communications, Education, Business (+ many more)
Kaya Internships Abroad	32 countries across Latin America, Africa, and Asia-Pacific	Social Work, Psychology, Environmental Studies, Health Sciences, Communication, Sports & Recreations (+ many more)
TAMU Public Policy Internship Program	Germany, England, Spain, France	Public Administration, Policy, Statecraft, United States Commercial Service, Centre international de formation européenne (CIFE)

CONTACT US